Council Updates

Judge Larry Dwight Reappointed for 19th Term as Presiding Judge

At its October 22 meeting, Addison's City Council reappointed Municipal Court Judge Larry Dwight and Alternate Judges Cass Callaway and appointed Stephen Feil to serve new terms starting January 1, 2025. Judge Dwight, who has been with the Town for an impressive 38 years and has served as Presiding Judge for the past 18 terms, will continue his dedicated service alongside the newly appointed Alternate Judges.

Judge Callaway returns as an Alternate Judge, while Stephen Feil will step into the position previously held by Judge Buck Johnson, who will retire on December 31, 2024. These appointments will span from January 1, 2025, through December 31, 2026

Are You Interested in Getting Involved in Addison?

Applications for Planning and Zoning Commission or Board of Zoning Adjustment volunteer opportunities are now available and will be accepted until 5pm on November 22. Learn more at addisontx.gov/BoardsandCommissions.

Additionally, Addison Airport is seeking volunteers for its Master Plan Steering Committee. The Town is inviting residents and business owners who are passionate about the future of Addison Airport to apply. Learn more about this opportunity at addisonairport.net/SteeringCommittee.

The Council will make appointments for all of these committees at its December 10 meeting.

CPAC Will Review the First Draft of Comprehensive Plan at November 6 Meeting

The first full draft of the Advance Addison 2050 Comprehensive Plan is being released for review by Staff, the Comprehensive Plan Advisory Committee (CPAC), the Planning & Zoning Commission (P&Z), and the City Council!

PROJECT TIMELINE

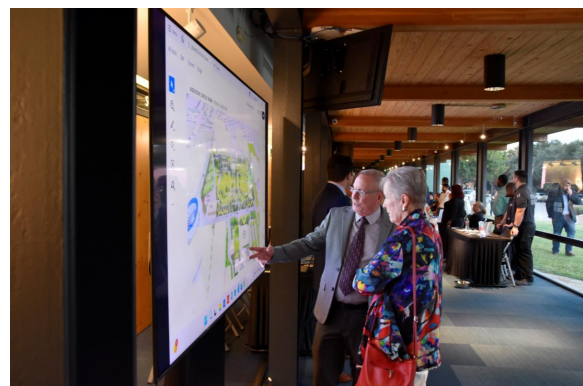

Phase 5, Prioritize, is ending with the final CPAC Meeting on Wednesday, November 6 from 6pm – 8pm at the Addison Conference Centre (15650 Addison Road). The project team will use this time to prepare CPAC for its major role in reviewing the plan and ensuring a smooth City Council adoption in April 2025. Staff, CPAC, P&Z, and Council will thoroughly review the first draft during this meeting so the consultant team may incorporate edits before public review occurs in January 2025.

You are welcome to attend the CPAC Meeting on November 6, however, this will not include any interactive activities. You can view the agenda and packet three days before the meeting here. If you are unable to attend, you can watch the meeting live here, or catch the recording afterward.

Should you have any questions about the Comprehensive Plan or review process please reach out to Jade Broadnax, Comprehensive Planning Manager, at jbroadnax@addisontx.gov. Happy planning!

Council Shares Project Updates at Fall Town Meeting

Thank you to everyone who attended the October 29 Town Meeting at the Conference Centre! We had a great turnout, with many community members joining us for updates on the Town's Strategic Key Focus Areas.

Ahead of the meeting, attendees had the chance to connect with Town departments, who were available to answer questions and share information on their ongoing projects and initiatives. Representatives from several local nonprofits, including Metrocrest Services and Metrocare, were also present, offering insights into their valuable community work.

During the meeting, the Council provided comprehensive updates on our strategic focus areas, highlighting current projects and future plans designed to enhance our vibrant, active, and connected community. We appreciate everyone's engagement and look forward to continued progress on these priorities together.

If you missed the event, you can find the video here here.

E2open Welcomes Addison Leaders to New Headquarters

The Town of Addison visited this week with e2open, a global supply chain company with over 3,000 employees and 23 locations. E2open has been a part of our community since 2019 and officially relocated its headquarters from Austin to Addison in September 2024. A special thanks to Executive Vice President of Product Management and Strategy Pawan Joshi and the entire e2open team for hosting Mayor Bruce Arfsten, Council Member Marlin Willesen, and Town staff. We're proud of e2open's ongoing collaboration with Addison on multiple volunteer projects, showcasing our shared commitment to community service!

AlphaGraphics Celebrates 15 Year Anniversary

On Wednesday, the Metrocrest Chamber of Commerce celebrated the addition of AlphaGraphics to the Chamber family. Mayor Bruce Arfsten, Mayor Pro Tempore Darren Gardner, Deputy Mayor Pro Tempore Nancy Craig, and Council Members Howard Freed, Dan Liscio, and Marlin Willesen were all in attendance to celebrate the valued Addison business with a ribbon-cutting ceremony.

AlphaGraphics has proudly served Addison for 15 years, specializing in high-quality printing, marketing, and signage solutions that help businesses make a lasting impression. Known for its customer-centric approach, AlphaGraphics offers services ranging from business cards and brochures to large-format graphics and digital marketing. Their team is dedicated to supporting the growth and visibility of businesses in the Addison area and beyond.

Congratulations to AlphaGraphics! We are grateful to have you in Addison.

Spooky Fun for All Ages at the Athletic Club Halloween Bash

The Athletic Club's Halloween Bash was a spooky success at its new location in Addison Circle Park! Over 1,000 parents and kids turned out, dressed in their favorite costumes and ready for a fun-filled evening. The park was buzzing with excitement as children enjoyed inflatables, lively music, and plenty of treats and tricks to go around. Thanks to everyone who joined us for this memorable annual event.

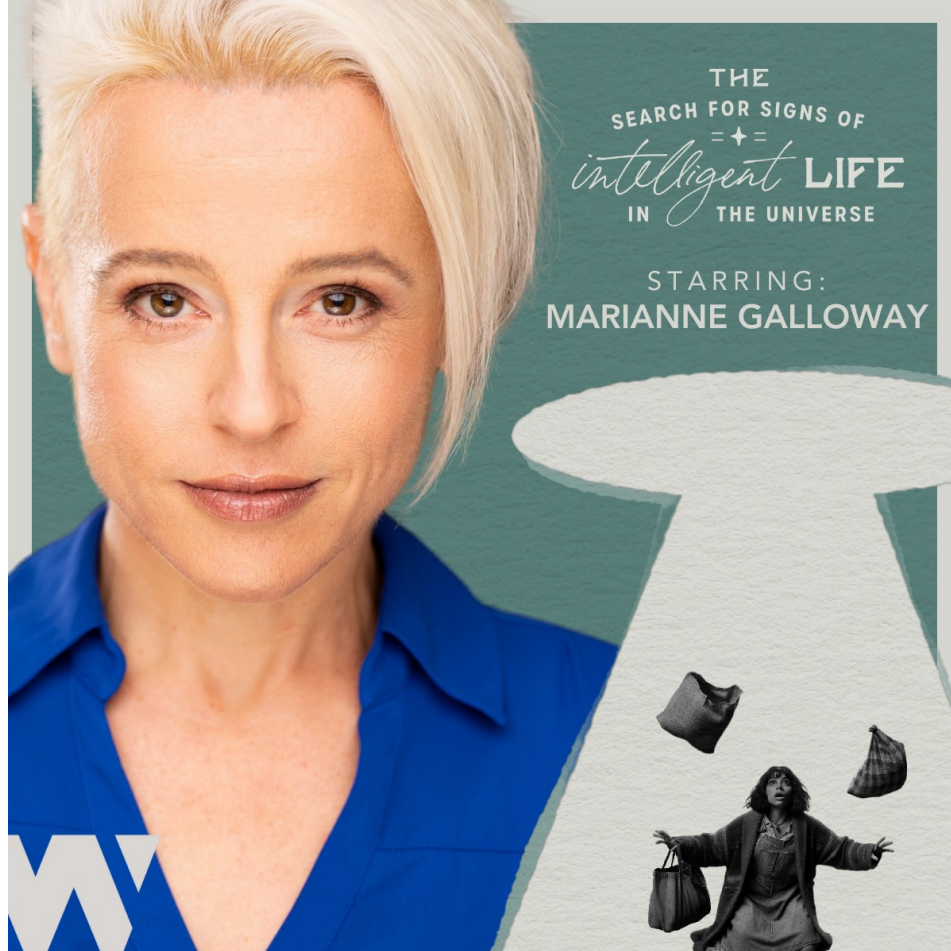

Overnight Lane Closures on DNT Planned from Nov. 3-7

DART is planning night construction work on the Dallas North Tollway (DNT) rail track and pedestrian bridges for the Silver Line Regional Rail Project from 10pm to 4am, Sunday, November 3 through Thursday, November 7. Expect some lane closures on the DNT between Keller Springs Boulevard and Belt Line Road during these hours.
